

Kruse Integration forms alliance with RG Group

Kruse Integration, dredging division, has just formed a strategic alliance with RG Group to supply complete turn-key dredge controls/hydraulics design, upgrades, installations, commissioning and support for refurbished or new dredges.

Kruse and RG Group have worked together for many years on several successful projects where controls and hydraulics require integration. Kruse Integration brings the automation and Manufacturing IT while RG Group brings years of experience in hydraulic design, supply, installations, commissioning and support for custom hydraulic processes. RG Group has a vast staff of engineers, field support technicians, in-house custom fabrication, parts and service within their production and warehouse facility in York, Pennsylvania (PA).

G Group and Kruse Integration are located within 45 minutes of each other and this alliance makes perfect sense. Contact Jay Wise for more information or quotations.
